Dear Colleague:

On Saturday, October 4, 2008, the AP Chinese Language and Culture Development Committee will present a conference on AP Chinese Language and Culture. The conference, which is free of charge, will take place between 8:30 A.M. and 12:30 P.M. at the Kyoto Grand Hotel, 120 South Los Angeles Street, Los Angeles, CA, 90012. Underground parking is available at the hotel for $22 per day.

You and your colleagues are cordially invited to attend the Development Committee's program, which will feature presentations on teaching AP Chinese Language and Culture. There will also be presentations on the content and administration of the AP Exam and on how students' responses are scored. Participants will have the opportunity to engage in a question and answer session and to exchange information with the high school and college faculty who are responsible for designing the AP Chinese Language and Culture course and exam and with the Chief Reader, who supervises the evaluation of students' typed and spoken responses. A copy of the agenda is on the reverse side of this letter.

To register for the conference, please complete the enclosed form and return it to Tina Kadelski by fax (at 732 667-4052), mail (46-N, ETS, Rosedale Road, Princeton, NJ 08541), or e-mail (tkadelski@ets.org) by September 15, 2008. By registering in advance, you will ensure that those planning the conference provide a sufficient number of publications and handouts. We also encourage you to include any questions you would like to have answered at the conference. You will not get a confirmation of receipt of your registration form, but your registration assures you of a place at the conference. All attendees will receive a certificate of participation.

We sincerely hope that you and your colleagues will be able to participate in this program and take advantage of the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with the AP Chinese Language and Culture Development Committee. We look forward to seeing you in Los Angeles, CA.
